Want to be on Time? Check Clock Tonight

California, along with 15 other states will switch to daylight time tomorrow at 2 a. m. and will stick with it until the last Sunday in September when time will revert back to standard.

Villagers were advised to set their clocks and watches ahead one hour on retiring tonight. Then they will be on time for church and appointments tomorrow. Otherwise—an hour later.

THE TIME CHANGE will affect transportation schedules. Pacific Greyhound buses will conform to "fast" time in all areas observing the switch. In states where Daylight Time is not effective, schedules will operate on Standard Time.

A more complicated situation exists on the railroads since they traverse some areas on Time and others on Standard.

INTERSTATE TRAINS on the Southern Pacific will remain on Standard Time. Sanford Cooper, local representative, said that they will arrive and depart an

Race Track Hearing Set At Riverside

Both Proponents, Opponents to Give Testimony

A second hearing on an application by the Desert Turf Club for a permit to establish a quarter-horse race track at Rancho Mirage, will head the agenda of desert area items before the County Board of Supervisors Monday.

The hearing is scheduled for 2 p. m. in the Supervisors chambers, and both opponents and proponents will be heard.

THIS HEARING takes the case back to where it began over two years ago. Since that time it has been through the local courts, before the Fourth District Court of Appeals, and in the California Supreme Court.

The Desert Turf Club asked for permission to build the track after the California Horse Racing Commission issued it a permit to hold quarter-horse racing in the desert area. The Supervisors refused to grant the permit although it had been approved by the County Planning Commission.

ATTORNEY FOR the proponents of the track is John E. Glover of Los Angeles, and John Babbage of Riverside will handle the case for the opponents.

Frank Bogert, president of the Desert Turf Club, asked today that all persons who are interested in having the track in this area, "come on over to Riverside and support our case."

ANOTHER HEARING affecting the desert area was set for 10 a. m. Monday, when testimony will be taken on the proposed adoption of interim zoning in the White-water-Thousand Palms area.

Other matters before the Supervisors include the approval of maps, agreements and bonds on Silver Spur Ranch No. 2, and consideration of a recommendation to amend the interim zoning in the Wests Indio district.

Police Search For Suspect

Police today are searching for Harry Martin, of Miami, Fla., a visitor in Palm Springs, who this week allegedly hit a local health club operator on the head with a black-jack, and then threatened him with a .38 cal. revolver.

Fred N. Leemans of Desert Hot Springs filed a complaint against Martin after the visitor reportedly assaulted him for halting a business deal Martin had with a local man.

school, Warren Danielson, principal of Cielo Vista school, Mayor Boyd, and Barbara Root, teacher at Frances Stevens school. Dianne Jessie of Frances Stevens school listens as Brian McMichael of Katherine Finchy discusses the proclamation with Mayor Boyd. (Desert Sun Photo).

SCHOOL SUPT. Wallace Mueller announced that schools of the Palm Springs Unified School District will hold open house according to the following schedule:

Monday: Cahulla School, 7:30 p. m.

Police Vacation To Start May 27

FAST FURNITURE SALES OCCUR WITH SUN 'RESULT' ADS

You'll wonder where the furniture went so fast, that is when you tumble to the sales magic of Desert Sun Classified Advertising. When it comes to making things disappear, Sun Ads rate top billing, according to rave "reviews" from such satisfied citizens as Abe Kempler, of the Palmer Hotel here.

Kempler, who reached an eager audience with an ad for sale of his rattan furniture set, said he was literally "amazed" at the performance—his furniture sold so fast (the first day the ad appeared) he hardly had time to shake the hand of his happy customer.

But Sun Ads really have nothing to do with hocus pocus. Its just plain common sense to use the best sales medium you can find, and you can find it by reaching for the telephone, dialing 5005, The Desert Sun, and asking for "CLASSIFIED"

All Persons To Face Trial As Traitors

600 Persons in Custody Including Ex-Premier Nabulsi

By UNITED PRESS
Jordan's firmly established pro-Western government announced today that military courts will try persons accused of plotting against King Hussein and the country. Some 600 persons already had been picked up for questioning and the Cairo Radio said 164 of them had been detained, including former Premier Suleiman Nabulsi.

THE KING AND his army-backed cabinet moved swiftly to consolidate their victory over Communist led elements which had attempted to topple his throne. Other developments included:

CAIRO AND MOSCOW Radios stepped up their propaganda barrage against King Hussein, Moscow Radio accused him of collaborating with "American imperialism." Cairo Radio was equally critical.

The Egyptian newspaper Al Gomouria said the Soviet Government had sent President Eisenhower a note warning against intervention in Jordan. But at the vacation White House in Augusta, Ga., presidential press secretary James Hagerty denied that any such note had been received, "either in the White House or the Department of State."

WHILE THE FEAR of Jordan dismemberment had abated, special interest centered on a meeting at Mecca among King Saud of Saudi Arabia, Syrian President Hukri El-Kuwatly and Wing Commander Ali Sabri, chief political adviser to Egyptian propaganda machines have attacked the Jordan regime consistently even though their governments took no official position.

City Council Asks Four Specified Points be Included In Proposed Indian Land Equalization Legislation

A resolution directed to the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Department of Interior, passed by the City Council, asks the Federal agency to include at least four points in the proposed Indian Land Equalization Bill now before Congress.

The Council adopted the resolution, to be forwarded to Rex Lee, Legislative Associate Commissioner, by a vote of 4-1, with Councilman Frank Miller casting the dissenting vote, saying that he did not want the five year limit on placing the land on county tax rolls. He had said that the land should be taxable as soon as the bill is passed.

THE BILL IS currently being discussed between the Agua Caliente Tribal Council and representatives of the Department of Interior, is being changed, and the City Council asked that the bill include the following points:

(1) The lands shall be subject to the power of eminent domain in the courts of California, and the United States of America shall not be a necessary party defendant in such proceedings.

(2) All corporate lands shall go onto the county tax rolls after five years from enactment of the Bill. In this respect the taxes shall have priority over the costs of equalization processes remaining to be accomplished, as well as the payments to the Federal Government for administration to allotted lands.

(3) THAT THE actual expense of the Federal government to advise and administer to allotted lands shall be made up from corporate funds. The present provision is that the cost to the government "may" be paid out of the corporate funds.

(4) The Bill contains no adequate provision for rights-of-way or the paving of such rights-of-way, and as a consequence it is the opinion of the city that such legislation is not complete until thought has been given to integrating Indian lands with non-Indian lands.

THE EQUALIZATION process which is currently underway is a means of equalizing the allotments of Indian lands, to bring each Indian land owner up to about the same land valuation.

The Bill, currently before the Congress, also asks primarily that all unallotted lands be governed by a corporation which will be known as the Agua Caliente Tribal Corporation (allotted lands will not be controlled by the corporation) which will handle all business pertaining to, what is today classified as, "Tribal Lands."

In the proposed equalization process, the Indians (that is all members of the tribe) will be given stock in the corporation and the stock will be the equalization process.

The City Council heard last night that the Bill may not get through Congress during this session, but the local Indian Tribe has every hope that it will.

A Kiln As a Present for Your Wife? Hy Ranes Did, and Christine Started Business

How would you feel if your husband came home from work and blithely announced he had bought you, as your dream present, a kiln?

Most wives would throw up their hands in amazement, not to mention dismay, and intone: "What's that?"

But to Christine Ranes, pretty and diminutive wife of Hy Ranes, Palm Springs planning director, it was tantamount to receiving a mink coat. This despite the fact that a kiln is not the type of oven that cooks steaks and roasts.

THE KILN HER husband had gifted her, however, would enable her to tackle a career of which she had long dreamed.

Showing the same planning aptitude that her husband possesses, Christine had long undergone extensive preparations for a career in ceramic tiles.

Now that he had the kiln she could fill her leisure time with this pursuit to her heart's content.

IT WASN'T LONG before Arthur Elrod, the interior decorator, while visiting the Ranes home, noticed her murals and became very much impressed with their beauty.

The Elrod enthusiasm led to his commissioning Mrs. Ranes to design and make a mural for the Royal Air Country Club model. This is the new Palm Springs show place on the site of the former Desert Inn Golf Course which is on display for 50 cent donations to the Palm Springs Community Chest.

WHEN OTHER assignments started to pour in, notably from architects Howard Lapham and Harrison and Wexley, Mrs. Ranes became associated with Barbara Morrison. Together they established the firm of Christine and Barbara Designs, with both indoor and outdoor ceramic murals as their specialty.

The team of Christine and Barbara is getting ready for its biggest project to date—ceramic murals at Bermuda Dunes, the new desert resort community founded by Terry Ray and Ernie Dunlevie.

ings are currently on display with the Los Angeles Art Association.

MRS. RANES WAS born in Paris, living in France and Switzerland during the Nazi siege. She feels quite at home in Palm Springs. This is because the Swimming Pool City is a perfect match in climate, topography and vegetation with the French Riviera, where Christine and her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Ruben Tylbor, still maintain a home.

As a child she was always drawing, but it was not until she came to America that she launched her formal art education. This culminated with her studying at New York's famous Pratt Institute. After spending four years there, she won her Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree.

FOLLOWING HER graduation from Pratt, she became a textile designer. As stylist for Riverdale Draperies, one of the East's largest drapery firms, she made her first big splash in her field.

Christine met her husband while he was attending Columbia University, studying for his degree in City Planning. They became engaged on New Year's Eve, marrying after his graduation.

They were all set to make a trip to Paris and the French Riviera when Ranes was offered the City Planning Directorship of Palm Springs. The trip was cancelled and he came directly to Palm Springs, Christine joining him after helping to wind up their affairs in New York.

THE QUIET and solitude of Palm Springs was a radical change from the hustle and bustle of Manhattan. But she bridged the transition with ease by painting, something she didn't have time for in New York. Some of her paintings are currently on display with the Los Angeles Art Association.

Nearly half of the 48 states are coastal. There are 2 states bordering on salt water seas.

Mayor Boyd May Oppose County Bonds

Mayor Florian Boyd this week said that he was "going to recommend against the $5,465,000 County Building Bond Issue unless the County Board of Supervisors takes steps to broaden the tax base and to lower the land tax in the county."

At the City Council meeting earlier this month, the Council voted to stand behind the bond issue if the county supervisors worked toward the passing and use of the Bradley-Burns Act in this county.

At past meetings on the tax, the City of Palm Springs has said it will not share in the tax program, and would like to see the county make different "deals" with each incorporated area within the county.

City Attorney Jerry Bunker has pointed out that under the provisions of the Act, the county has the right to set up different programs for each community, if it desires to do so.

FOLLOWING A TWO-DAY conference at Avalon, on Santa Catalina Island, Arthur Press, of Press Construction Company, announces completion of arrangements with P. K. Wrigley and the Santa Catalina Island Company to commence construction of three projects on the Island, total value estimated at over one-half million dollars. Wexler and Harrison, local architects, have been commissioned to draw plans for the entire undertaking. Press said that full scale operation of Press Construction Company will continue in Palm Springs, and in extending their area of activity an additional permanent crew will be maintained on the Island. Work schedules are arranged to prevent any break in continuous employment for this crew and to facilitate uninterrupted progress in construction. Pictured above is the artist's sketch of one of the projects, Pavilion Lodge, which will be located on the shores of world-famous Avalon, Santa Catalina Island, on which work is scheduled to start within six weeks.

Indian Avenue Deeds Accepted

The Palm Springs Planning Commission adopted a resolution last Wednesday recommending acceptance of all future conveyances for the Indian Avenue project.

IT'S "DO OR DIE"
FOR TRAMWAY NOW

By putting up a determined fight before the Assembly Conservation Committee sponsors of Mt. San Jacinto Tramway have saved the project from the axe. Forces which have tried for years to prevent the building of this great tourist lift made another effort to get the State Legislature to kill the Tramway Authority, and thus put an end to the long drawn-out effort.

Thanks to Assemblyman Lee Backstrand and Senator Nelson Dilworth—backed up by Earl Coffman and Francis Crocker (members of the Authority) and numerous political and civic organizations—the great tourist attraction was given a stay of execution. We say this because it is becoming increasingly apparent that enabling State legislation will be withdrawn if construction of the tramway is not started before another attack is made through the State Legislature.

There seems little doubt that the State Park will renew the lease with the Tramway Authority for land in the San Jacinto State Park at the tramway's top. When this has been accomplished the only remaining step to fulfillment of the tramway dream is the sale of revenue bonds. The Authority has reported that its fiscal agents are waiting for a favorable market before offering the securities.

Maybe the situation is improving. The Sunshine State Parkway is now arranging for the sale of $185 million worth of revenue bonds with which to extend a freeway through the entire length of the state. They have reported in the press that they expect to have the bonds sold by July 1 of this year. They must consider that the bond market is favorable right now. In view of the saleable economic report on the probability of success of the projected tramway it seems that these securities should sell as well as any other revenue bonds. We hope an effort will be made in the near future to put these bonds on the market.

If this is not done reasonably soon the project on which so much time and money has been spent is doomed to failure, and yet interest in the construction of this engineering wonder seems to be greater than ever before. More people and organizations interested in promoting the tourist business in Southern California are coming to realize the possibilities of such an attraction. It would be a drawing card for the entire Southwest which is needed to compete with other resort areas which are doing more every year to attract business.

Investigation Called For
Assemblyman Ernest R. Geddes of Claremont has said that he will seek an investigation of the Tramway Authority. This might be a good idea. It might be brought out at such a hearing that the very group which Assemblyman Geddes represents has been responsible for delaying the project by throwing obstacles in its path at every opportunity.

Were it not for this opposition the great tourist lift might have been built some years ago at a saving of several million dollars. The conservationists who opposed the project have been aided by two wars during which steel for a project like this was not obtainable. What else does Assemblyman Geddes think, we wonder, caused so much delay?

If the Tramway Authority is in any way to blame for the failure of the tramway to be built by this time we have no knowledge of it. They appear to have proceeded as rapidly as possible under a severe handicap.

An investigation might bring out some facts of which the public has not been informed but it is not likely that a probe would serve any useful purpose. It would probably be just another delaying tactic.

Of one thing we feel quite sure—it is now do or die as far as this proposal is concerned. Right now, while interest in what would probably be one of the world's greatest attractions has again been aroused, is the time for the Mt. San Jacinto Winter Park Authority to go on the offensive and get some action.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

If D-Day Comes

ABOARD USS FORRESTAL—

From the bridge of this proud aircraft carrier, you see what you want to see. The jaundiced eye sees taxpayers' dollars by the multimillions in expendable, non-productive hardware. The chauvinistic eye dances with delight over the incomparable battle array — "That banner in the sky," which has spoken to American hearts since the days of Old Ironsides.

The eye of Rear Admiral Mury E. Arnold, commander of Carrier Division 4, is seagray and weatherwise, and it beholds a vast, continuous training exercise of youths and machines. The Admiral sees a fleet at "war games," which means at instant "readiness," as cocked pistol. The journalistic eye goes calculative and tries to solve the intricate arithmetic of debit and credit, costs and values.

NORODY BUT HE himself should be responsible for the journalists' answer. Nothing I write here is an official "leak" or is propaganda poop from the public relationsists. But my answer is that the Anglo-French fiasco in the Egyptian "invasion" last winter is what happens when governments try to save money on the readiness of their fleets.

It's frugal to leave ships in port, planes on the deck, crews in their bunks, reservists at their civilian jobs. But what happens when somebody hits the button and all these men and machines are told to come out fighting? The thing that happens—for friend and enemy to see—is what happened last November when the British and French botched it up. Even against no opposition, they could not have gotten there in time to slam the cellar door on Nasser. Suppose that alert had been for the main show?

NO OTHER NATION, except the USA, can afford fleet readiness. But no other nation has as much to lose in material and spiritual wealth. Aboard the Forrestal the readiness is round-the-clock and the cost is enormous.

This vessel, by day and night, keeps launching and recovering the all-weather Demons, the good-weather Cougars, the high-level and long-distance A-3D bomber, the 10-hour single-engine Skyraider, the Furies, the photo planes, the helicopter, the COD's (cargo on deck), which bring high-priority supplies and lucky journalists on board.

Besides these are the guided missiles, the Sidewinder and the Regulus, so expensive that even the U. S. Navy doesn't toss them around like flapjacks. In addition, there is the "nuclear capacity," which are atomic bombs and warheads that you don't often mention.

WHAT VALUE IS the Sixth Fleet in a world battle? As an interesting exercise, imagine what an enemy concentration of this magnitude would mean in the Caribbean. There could hardly be a waking moment when the President and Congress would think of anything else.

Transpose this hypothesis to the Mediterranean, and ask yourself how the Russian leaders of Red Internationalism must be affected. They cannot colonize the South of Europe or the North of Africa because the inhabitants feel strong in the American strength. They can no longer count on scaring even the feeblest free country, cannot chastise the renegade Tito in Yugoslavia, and cannot be sure that another satellite or two in the Balkans will not pull a "Tito."

The Kremlin leaders are balked, as we would be balked if these conditions applied to Cuba, Puerto Rico and Venezuela. The Red revolutionists at Moscow must keep on muttering their empty threats, or they must strike!

THERE'S NO DENYING that the American policy of Soviet-baiting in the Mediterranean could trigger a Russian assault. It is a risk that every Sixth Fleet commander accepts without question. Policies are made in Washington and not questioned at sea. P. W. would World War III begin? Again the answer is a journalistic calculation, not the result of inside knowledge or the reflection of official Navy opinion. Something like this, I think, would happen:

At the push of the Kremlin button every Communist-owned submarine plane and missile would take simultaneous action. The American cities and the American bases would be prime targets. Strategic Air Command planes already aloft or on the end of runways would start to counter attack.

THE SIXTH FLEET, very vulnerable in these narrow waters and yet harder to find and hit than the land targets, would have its atom-armed planes over enemy territory in a matter of minutes. The sailors and fliers would be doing then, against real opposition, exactly what they are doing now in daily practice against simulated opposition.

It is not likely that the Sixth Fleet would last very long against determined air attack from enemy land bases. The entire fleet, whatever its dollars costs, is expendable. Its entire strength would be hurled at the enemy, and, probably, the enemy knows even better than we do what the damage would be. The only thing we could do is to make the punishment swift and sure. It is expensive—yes. Extravagant—no.

Of course, you know
What I will rhyme.
It deals with that
Blank daylight time.

Yep, tomorrow you will be an hour late for all appointments unless you set your watches and clocks ahead an hour before wailing slumber tonight.

At 2 a.m., Sunday, April 28—and that is tomorrow—PDT comes into being to last until the last Sunday in September.

Naturally, I am prepared. Have been getting up ten minutes earlier each day since a week ago Thursday. I have been on Daylight Time since Tuesday.

RECEIVED some interesting statistics from the Travelers' Insurance company in a booklet entitled "Heedless Horsepower."

It deals with highway tragedies during 1956 when 40,000 persons lost their lives in traffic and 2,368,000 were injured, some to carry permanent scars. That's 2,200 more dead than in 1955 and more than 200,000 more injured.

INTERESTING to note was that almost 80 per cent of the fatal accidents occurred on dry straight roads in clear weather. That all adds up to prove that it was the drivers, not the automobiles or the highways, who were responsible — for 40,000 dead.

Incidentally, more than 27 per cent of the crashes, involved drivers under 25 years of age. And 89.7 per cent of the drivers in all accidents were men.

IT HAS BEEN CLAIMED that the experienced driver is prone to become overconfident and that he (or she) drives automatically. This is borne out by the statistics which reveal that drivers with more than one year of experience, figures in 96.7 per cent of all accidents in 1956 while novice drivers figured in only 1.1 per cent.

TAKE IT EASY at night. That is when many drivers step on it because the highways are comparatively empty. But almost 25 per cent of the accidents occurred between midnight and 6 a.m.

Late afternoon, when everyone is rushing home from work or shopping, is another dangerous period with another 23 per cent of the casualties being recorded between 4 and 8 p.m.

And, remember, if you are planning a Sunday drive tomorrow, don't be a Sunday driver. Almost half of the 40,000 highway deaths last year occurred during the weekend.

IT MUST BE the drivers. Because 96.4 per cent of the accidents happened to automobiles apparently in good working condition, on straight roads, in clear, dry weather.

With automobiles and highways being made safer, perhaps it might be smart to check the drivers' heads oftener. It might cut down the horrible toll—40,000 dead, 2,368,000 injured—more than the combined population of 25 states.

Getting back to a more pleasant topic—next Wednesday is the first of May, a most delightful month on the desert. Plan now to stick around.

INEZ ROBB:

Aspirin by the Million

The National Institute of Health reports that we Americans take 12 billion aspirin tablets annually to soothe our shakes. But I think the count is low. That is only around 70 aspirins per man, woman and child. (The popular child-size aspirin indicates that the American moppet has a head start toward becoming a neurotic, just like mommy and daddy.)

I am not an aspirin addict, but I have been eating them by the handful ever since a popular greeting-card manufacturer started sending me samples of his wares about two months ago. I have written him a couple of times, begging him to refrain, and now I am toying with the idea of a court injunction.

THESE SAMPLE cards rent me, touted as "gay, chic and avant garde," are divided into three general categories any one of which would upset a Watutsi witch doctor.

First, there are those that are frankly obscene. Second there is a group so macabre and sadistic that they seem suitable only for Jack the Ripper. The third category specializes in the art of insult, as practiced by certain radio and teevee comics. (Well, they're advertised as comics.)

Any of the group could be fatal to an aspirin-addled American whose nerves are already throbbing like a wind harp. The obscene cards are inexcusable and the others are incredible.

EVEN BEFORE these three categories started to flood the greeting-card racks, the industry had much to answer for. In the past 20 years, during which the industry has catapulted into popularity, it must answer for a sharp decline in polite manners and a corresponding spurt in illiteracy.

The greeting card has completely killed the art of letter-writing. By and large, no one today knows how to write a thank-you note, an anniversary felicitation a missive to a sick friend or even a billetdoux. All proper sentiments are now for sale, third and fourth hand, on greeting cards. And now the improper ones are for sale, too!

THE GREAT ART of the letter-writer, as practiced by Horace Walpole, Lord Chesterfield and Mme. de Staël, to name a few, was given the final coup de grace by the advent of greeting cards. The telegram started it ("Do right and fear no man; don't write and fear no woman") and the greeting card applied the double whammy.

The big, easy, economy-size built-in message, saving time, effort and thought, was ready-made for the 20th Century's let-George-Do-It attitude. The greeting card industry quickly caught the hang of this age of specialization, and today if your Great Aunt Emma suffers from fallen arches, you can purchase a greeting card addressed to "My Great Aunt, in Hope Her Arches Ain't Achin'!"

IF YOUR DOG is sick, your watch broken, your exams flunked, your house burned, your daughter eloped or your boss sick ("Nothing trivial, I hope"), there is a suitable card.

Okay, These I am prepared to endure. But the obscene, the macabre and the neurotic? No! Insults, NO! If you have me in mind for any cards in these categories, kindly save your money, pass the aspirin and drop dead.

Broke bread with Haig Harris the other day in the Blue Room of the Chi Chi. He is the incumbent member of the Consolidated School District who will be opposed during the forthcoming election.

First I probed deeply into what makes this man Haig Harris tick. That's my business—I'm told. Then I bluntly asked him: "Harris, why are you seeking the same position on the school board again?"

THIS IS HIS reply: "Three or four months ago nothing could have enticed me to run for that office again. Four years of service I believe takes a lot out of a man. "But just about a month ago," continued Harris, "I started receiving telephone calls and people would drop by my home and place of business, urging me to run again. This form of appreciation is worth more to me than anything of value you could possibly name."

SO HAIG HARRIS is back in the battle for the school board. He is being opposed by Charles Wallace of Thousand Palms who is making a determined effort to win and has been campaigning vigorously.

Now sometime ago I wrote a piece about this man Wallace, and it would only be fair to do just the same for Haig Harris. I'm of the opinion that both of these men have great qualities. And, believe me, they certainly must have their human faults as well.

Back to Haig Harris for a moment or two. Personally, I am not urging anyone to vote for him. And the same case is true with reference to Wallace. Make up your own mind, but get out and vote.

HAIG CAME UP the hard way. As an immigrant in this country many years ago he ran the gamut of all vocations. When he had saved enough money he decided to see the rest of this country and came right on out to California. He married his wife in Fresno.

In Hollywood he had a chance to enter the grocery business and did in a most modest way. By careful husbandry this business became very successful. Haig even bought the building and the land on which it stands at Franklin Avenue in Hollywood.

THE FATHER OF three children—born during lectures on the probabilities of retiring to a life with a slower pace. He came down to Palm Springs and then made up his mind to buy a date grove. He packs 250,000 pounds of dates annually and does his own marketing. He also owns his own packing plant. His children attend high school, junior high and grammar school.

"Children come first with me," Harris said. "Anybody's children. Then I start considering how wisely we can spend the taxpayers' money. I'm no rubber stamp who will say 'yes sir' under any political pressure. The children and the people who pay the bills are my concern."

THE PRIZE MEDAL for absent mindedness during lectures may be awarded to a German professor long gone. He said: "Julius Caesar disguised as a male, swam naked across the Tiber." Another one was: "The Swiss are a mountainous nation but in Scotland the climate does not begin until October."

Finally: "World War I would have ended sooner had it commenced earlier." That's enuf, Prof.

EARL WILSON:

Tennessee Talks

HOLLYWOOD—Tennessee Ernie Ford, the cute, mustached, six-foot, pipe-sucking pea-picking Plato of the country music field, had just 40 minutes to down his lunch—including the vodka martini.

"You're the only new guy to crash TV's Top 10 this year—how'd you do it?" I asked him. "To get into that Top 10"—and he puffed his briar—"you got to be somebody they can watch sittin' there in their pajama tops. You can't be the kind of a guy they got to get up and put their clothes on for."

I'VE INTERVIEWED most of TV's Top 50, but had never heard this idea expressed. I pressed for more.

"Well," he explained, squirming a little in his open-throated shirt as we sat there in Lyman's. "I like to be watched or listened to, not because of my talents—and I know I don't have too much—but because people like to have me around."

"It's the same as a bunch of guys will call you to go fishin' every year because they don't have to dress up and put on a duds. It's like that on TV. When you're in their home you can't get any closer to them; so you've got to be the kind of person that's welcome there."

ERNIE FORD AT 38 has become a mighty gigantic fellow around NBC on that philosophy—and while he comes from poor folks down at a wide place in the road in Tennessee, he's not just a "country-style singer" as the hillbillies like to be called nowadays.

Ernie actually attended the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music a few months in 1939 hoping to become a concert singer. He'd done Gilbert & Sullivan operettas in high school, and his father, a "mail man" who played hill-billy fiddle, fancied his young son doing "concert work."

"But my folks was having a real rough time. So when I went home for Thanksgiving, I thought I should go to work and buy coal for the winter," he said.

HE FOOLED AROUND radio announcing in Atlanta and later in the neighborhood of Los Angeles, got married, and then, he says: "Betty and I set down and did a lot of fiddlin'."

"We were both real serious about going to the Yukon homesteading. You had to work 5 years. Then you got the land you staked out. But suddenly I was offered a disc jockey job, so we let it go at that."

And then he began singing with the records—in his Tennessee tongue. "I wasn't tryin' to cram my state down anybody's throat because I don't think you can."

"BUT IT SEEM that a lot of common ordinary conversation where I come from seems very funny to some people."

He dates his success from "Mule Train" in '51, then "I'll Never Be Free" with Kay Starr—then of course came the day when his manager, Cliffe Stone, said, "You got to do some more records. You got anything kinda different?"

"I said 'Yeah—just like that."

"I liked 'Sixteen Tons', but didn't think anything like that'd happen to it. It's gone over three and a quarter million now."

Ernie, Betty, and Buck, 7, and Brian, going on 4, live next door to Bob Hope, but their decor comes from the local Macy's and is about what the average family would choose if the average family had a two-story ranch house—and was doing real good.

ERNIE'LL GIVE up his daytime show to concentrate on the night program—and this summer he and Betty'll tour New England getting refreshed for the fall.

Being a Methodist, Ernie enjoys telling about his grandmother, who still lives in Bristol, Tenn., being invited to go to California by plane to see him.

"I'm goin' up only once and it ain't gonna be on a plane," she announced.

THE WEEK-END WINDUP . . .

"DON'T PRINT THAT!": A recording company exec lost so heavily at cards to a songwriter that he had to pay off by using three of his tunes . . . The New England town chosen as the locale for the film "Peyton Place," isn't happy about it, and there may be a change.

Mrs. Lionel Hampton's $20,000 yellow mink coat got nearly as much newspaper comment in Australia as her husband's concerts . . . The Cotton Club revue flew from Miami to Las Vegas; its luggage was 3,000 pounds over the weight limit . . . Gant Gajther's talking to Tab Hunter about a B-way play . . . Eddie Bracken turned down a featured film role with Alan Ladd to stay with "Shinbone Alley."

Mindy Carson's "South Pacific" leading men (at N.Y. City Center) will be Bob Wright, once the announcer on her TV show . . . Italian film magazines list the stars' addresses and phone numbers . . . The Russ Columbo film bio is hot again, with Alan Dale a possibility . . . Victor Mature promises a lion cub mascot for The African Room, the N.Y. cafe he's backing.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "I enjoyed 'The Spirit of St. Louis,'" says Larry Mathews. "It's about a man who took a long trip without a single word of advice from the rear seat."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: We have heard of the Texas posse that chased an outlaw so far into the hills they had to change Cadillac three times.

Comedy writer Snag Werris tells of the gal so ugly that if she played the role of Lady Godiva the horse'd steal the scene . . . That's earl, brother.

Perfection Is Attainable, Says Sunday Sermon

C SAT PERFECTION IS 30 3... The continuing nature of man progressing toward the goal of perfection after, as well as before, death is the basis of the Lesson Sermon "Probation After Death" in all Christian Science churches Sunday.

The Golden Text of the sermon declares, "For ever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven... Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path" (Psalms 119:89, 105).

As the sermon develops, another verse from Psalms (16:11) continues the theme, "Thou wilt show me the path of life: in thy presence is fulness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore."

Mary Baker Eddy declares in correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," "As death findeth mortal man, so shall he be after death, until probation and growth shall effect the needed change," and again, "To be wholly spiritual, man must be sinless, and he becomes thus only when he reaches perfection" (pp. 291, 290).

Happiness Is A By-Product, Says Dr. Glen

"Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding" Proverbs.

"Happiness can be earned through mental and emotional self-discipline. It is not elusive but is a controllable factor and is mostly a result of our attitudes," adds Dr. Irma Glen, minister-director of the Church of Religious Science which holds Sunday Services at El Paseo Theatre at 10:45 a.m.

Junior Church for young people of all ages is held at the same time at the north end of the building. Midweek classes on the Science of Mind and its application to daily living are held on Thursday evenings at 8 p.m., and on Friday at noon at the Minister's residence, 1110 Buena Vista Drive.

There is special music and meditation at each service and the midweek meetings offer an opportunity for questions, discussions and testimonials. Everyone is invited to attend.

Superstitions Fail on Food

LOS ANGELES (AP)—If you believe any the following, you are wrong:
That you can lose weight by not drinking water.
That aluminum cooking pots cause cancer.
That fish is brainfood.
That milk causes mucous.
That skim milk has all its food value removed.

Dr. Cora Miller, assistant professor of foods and nutrition at the University of California, cited the above as just some of the superstitions still common about food. Her answers to these are:

Water has weight but it certainly cannot form tissue of any kind and therefore, cannot be fattening.
Aluminum pots have no connection with cancer.

Fish is good for you but it won't help your brain. Probably the belief started because fish does contain iodine which is necessary for your thyroid gland, but so do a lot of other foods.

Milk does not produce mucous although it does give the sensation of a film like that experienced in phlegm formation during a cold.

Skim milk contains all the nutrients of the original milk except the fat and fat-soluble substances.

Beauty Is Big Business Costs $2.5 Billion a Year

United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP)—We spend close to $2.5 billion dollars a year for the sake of our looks.

This puts beauty in the big business class, although not quite comparable to the dollar-volume of such heavy industries as oil or steel. The Toilet Goods Association which tabulates statistics on sales of beauty products, said the industry ranks about 45th.

Retail sales of toilet goods in 1955, the latest year for which figures are complete, totaled $1.192 billion. The 1956 total should run 10 per cent higher, said TGA. Dentrifices, of all things, are the top seller. Shampoos and home permanents come in the first five. TGA said we spent $120 million in 1955 on shampoos alone; another $80 million on home permanents; another $24.5 million on rinses, tints and dyes.

Our spending includes $64 million annually on lipsticks; close to $60 million for cleansing cream; $48 million on makeup bases; $47 million on solid face powder and a mere $8 million on eye makeup. But TGA pointed out it counts only retail sales and does not include the amount also spent by men, women and children for services in barber and beauty shops.

Count this in too, and you get $2.5 billion in the industry. Said Philip Parker, president, the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association.

Parker said the beauty business has been booming since World War II. He gave three reasons: The end of wartime shortages which kept beauty treatments to a minimum; the post-war research which has made numerous new cosmetics available; and the change in our attitude toward the once hush-hush subject of hair coloring.

"It's no longer a whispering matter . . . a few years ago a woman would henna, but wouldn't tell," said a spokesman for Claircol, which is observing its 25th anniversary in the hair coloring field.

This firm said "One out of every three women today make some color adjustments." Parker's association put the estimate higher—60 per cent of the adult female population, or 10 to 15 times as many women as used coloring before World War II. Most of the changes were minor—a shade or two lighter or darker than the natural tone.

Bread and Potatoes Can Be Useful in Reducing Diet

By GAIL GREENE
United Press Staff Correspondent
ANN ARBOR, Mich. —Fat folks ought to stop cowering at the sight of bread and potatoes. That's the contention of Adelia M. Beeuwkes, associate professor of public health nutrition at the University of Michigan.

Miss Beeuwkes would like to restore those two "bugaboos" to reducing diets.

She admitted her bread-potato theory may sound like heresy to the calorie-counter who has been scorning both for years.

But she believes "too many sugar-loaded foods are being gobbled up behind the excuse, 'Well, I never eat bread or potatoes.'"

"Better to forego that extra slab of cherry pie or the soft drink you can't get through the day without," she advised.

"Sugar contains lone-wolf calories," Miss Beeuwkes explained. "They just sit there and do nothing but add pounds."

Potatoes, on the other hand, have a great many food values and "aren't especially fattening when eaten plain," she added.

Miss Beeuwkes, a trim blonde, said she eats potatoes and bread every day but tries not to think of each meal in terms of vitamins.

"A homemaker shouldn't serve food as if it came straight off the pharmacy shelf," she said. "Don't say, now darling, eat this. It contains oddies of riboflavin," or "pass me a heaping plate of thiamin."

The university nutritionist, believes it isn't enough to teach a child to use a fork and spoon. Somewhere in his education, a child should learn what to eat. "I advise nutritionists to go easy on the hot dog, however," she added.

In fact, Miss Beeuwkes considers herself "a true friend of the hot dog."

"If you try to take away their hot dogs you get a negative response," she explained. "I suggest a wholesome enriched roll with that hot dog, a glass of milk, some salad and fruit for dessert."

Miss Beeuwkes believes people worry too much about food.

"There's no need to bring an adding machine to the dinner table to count the calories," she said. "What's really needed is exercise."

"Housewives' waistlines are more in danger than ever before because labor-saving homemaking gadgets have deprived them of all the exercise they used to have," she said.

Housewarming For The Smiths

Mr. and Mrs. Chester C. Moorten will be the hosts at a housewarming reception honoring Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith at their new home at 2235 Vista Grande.

More than 100 guests have been invited to attend the affair which will be held tomorrow afternoon from five to seven o'clock. Guests will include the board of directors of the Desert Museum, of which Dr. Smith is director.

Books on Animals, Fish, Birds Available for Young Readers

By GERRY VANEK
AND NOW LET'S take THE TRUE BOOK OF PEBBLES AND STONES to the seashore. What you may think is a butterfly posed on the sand might very well turn out to be just a shell that's shaped that way! And while shells might not seem like much in the way of protection to you and to me, they certainly suit clams and oysters to a "T." You might spy a squiggly-shaped snail at the seaside, in a pond or a pool, in the woods or garden, or even in your very own fish bowl!

After "on the land and on the sea" comes "in the air." That, of course, means birds. We meet them in THE TRUE BOOK OF BIRDS WE KNOW. The tiny hummingbird makes her delicate nest of spider webs and soft plant-down. When it's all finished it's no bigger than a marshmallow—and every bit as soft! A tern, on the other hand, sometimes lays her eggs on bare rocks; fortunately these particular eggs look like little rocks, so Mother Nature's ancient art of camouflage protects them. (I'd rather be a baby hummingbird! Wouldn't you?)

SOME BIRDS CAN only be described as peculiar. There's the penguin who can swim, but can't fly (which is fine if you're a fish!) The ostrich can run like a race horse, but can't fly either. What fun pelicans must have on picnics! They can carry their fish in the built-in lunch baskets in their bills!

The bright colors and sweet songs of the birds brighten our lives—but did you know that they also help us by eating insects that harm crops, "plant" growing things by scattering seeds, and even teach us (by their superior flying techniques) how to build better airplanes?

BACK AND WHITE sketches, as well as full color drawings, will introduce you to springtime violets, bluebells, and buttercups, and summer's back-eyes Susans. THE TRUE BOOK OF WEEDS AND WILD FLOWERS even goes so far as to answer this puzzler: when is a weed not a weed? The answer: when it blooms in the open deserts and fields, instead of in the midst of your vegetable patch or special flower garden.

For example, a sunflower is most definitely a weed when it goes on a rampage all over a cornfield (ask any farmer!); but it's a willowy wild flower when it smiles sunnily at the passing parade from a country roadside. Practical plans for whipping the weeds are described, but the author doesn't forget to present a plaintive plea for the preservation of the winsome wild flowers as well.

WHILE IT'S CERTAINLY not true that brown cows give chocolate milk, there are differences between Jerseys, Guernseys, and Holsteins. Besides milk, cream, butter, cheese, and ice cream, they manage to give us baby foods, balloons, glue, paint, and plastics! And, believe it or not, pigs like to keep clean, and they never overeat! (If you don't believe it, just peek into THE TRUE BOOK OF FARM ANIMALS and see for yourself!) If you've ever wondered where mules come from—since female mules never give birth to young—you'll soon find that it takes a donkey and a mare to make a mule!

Are you thinking of being a cowboy, fireman, or policeman when you grow up? If you are, you'll want to read THE TRUE BOOKS about them before you decide definitely. THE TRUE BOOK OF TOYS AT WORK explains laws of physics in such familiar terms as what keeps a balloon up . . . what makes a toy top turn . . . and what makes roller skates roll . . .

If you're felling silly, through and through, THE TRUE BOOK OF JOKES is the one for you! THE TRUE BOOK OF TIME tells you all about sundials, candle clocks, water clocks, and hour glasses. And, if you sometimes

CLEAN, WELL FURNISHED, AN EXCEPTIONAL VALUE

A SUNNY KIND of Gospel in everything he does is found by Apostle Paul Ree Tomlin, caretaker, gardener and hard-working Evangelist minister. He is in charge of the lawns and flowers at the Center, plus taking care of numerous private homes when time permits. Right now he's planning for next fall and winter, with new beautification ideas for the Center. (Desert Sun Photo).

Apostle Paul Tomlin, Gardener and Evangelist Minister, Somehow Retains Air of Easy Going Man on Vacation

Apostle Paul Ree Tomlin, caretaker, gardener and hard-working Evangelist minister, is an easy-going citizen who handles all his tasks with the casually concentrated air of a man on vacation.

But that's because Tomlin finds a sunny kind of Gospel in just about everything he does — and that goes for gardening, preaching or just watching his flowers grow.

IN CASE YOU'RE new around here, Tomlin, "just call me Paul," is the lanky, soft-spoken gent you will find carefully tending the lush floral gardens of The Center, in the heart of Palm Springs, at least six days a week.

On the seventh day, Tomlin drops his pruning shears, picks up his church robes and Bible and ranges Imperial Valley and Riverside County, tending the congregational flocks of a Baptist-Evangelist minister.

Tomlin, christened "Apostle Paul" by deeply religious parents, is an ordained minister of both churches, and he's invested most of his life in dispensing the Gospel throughout the United States as a traveling missionary-minister.

A NATURALLY gregarious citizen, he has an informal kind of affection that seems to be directed at anything living.

Take a look at his flower beds, or stop and pass the time of day while he pushes his power mower at The Center and you'll get the idea.

Ten years ago, Tomlin discovered Palm Springs and figured he had found the spot to plant his roots.

GROWING THINGS came naturally to Tomlin, who raised 23 children, some of whom have finished college, and he now counts 27 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Tomlin lavishes a special kind of protective care on his flower beds. "Some folks just don't care where they're walking," he'll tell you as he straightens the stalks of a few mangled petunias.

WHEN HE'S NOT at work in The Center, where the grass is greenest or the petunias the thickest, Tomlin hires out as a caretaker to Villagers who know of his garden prowess.

Today, Tomlin confessed that he's got big things in store for his winter planting at The Center. But he's not publishing any preview notices.

"You'll just have to come by in the winter and see for yourself," he grins, and that thoughtful smile tells you it'll be worth a second look.

BRAVES' BATS PUT THEM GAME IN FRONT IN NL

By FRED DOWN

United Press Sports Writer

The Milwaukee Braves owned undisputed possession of first place in the National League today because they're beating the Cincinnati Redlegs at their own game—the home run.

The Braves swept to their seventh victory in eight games and their fourth straight over the Redlegs, 9-2, Friday night with a salvo of four homers that gave them a league-leading total of 13 for the season. Joe Adcock walked two homers and drove in five runs and Johnny Logan and Del Crandall also homered for the Braves.

Warren Spahn scored his third straight win of the season and the Braves took over first place when the Pittsburgh Pirates knocked out 1955 World Series Johnny Podres and beat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 7-1. Rookie Don Cardwell of the Philadelphia Phillies shut out the New York Giants, 5-0, in the other N. L. game.

In THE AMERICAN LEAGUE, the Chicago White Sox solidified their hold on first place with a 4-3 victory over the Kansas City Athletics after the Boston Red Sox beat the New York Yankees, 6-2, in an afternoon game. In other night games, the Detroit Tigers downed the Cleveland Indians, 5-0, and the Baltimore Orioles beat the Washington Senators, 4-3.

Bob Purkey scattered nine hits for his second win of the season as the Pirates kayped Podres in 5 1/3 innings. Frank Thomas knocked in three runs for the Pirates with a homer and a single while Duke Snider saved the Dodgers from a shutout with a homer in the eighth frame.

Dave Sisler, son of Hall of Famer George Sisler, beat the Yankees for the second time in a week with a neat seven-hitter. Two unearned runs in the third inning and Jimmy Piersall's three-run homer off relief pitcher Tommy Byrne in the seventh provided the Red Sox with their big runs.

AL KALINE knocked in four runs, three with his first homer of the season, as the Tigers downed the Indians. Duke Maas picked up from the injured Frank Lary in the fourth inning to complete the shutout.

Joe Ginsberg, subbing for the injured Gus Triandos, doubled home the tie-breaking run in the eighth inning to give the Orioles the decision over the Senators. Ray Moore won his second game for the Orioles and Camille Pascual suffered his second loss for the Senators.

USC Golfers Retain Crown in Tournament

Bob McCallister is Still Champion in Collegiate Circles

Defending champion Bob McCallister paced the University of Southern California Trojans to their seventh straight team title Friday in the Southern California intercollegiate golf championships at Thunderbird Country Club.

The three-man SC team recorded a 428 to top the record of 439 posted by 1953 and 1954 Trojan teams. McCallister, a junior, fired a 68-70-138 to best the former mark held by Trojan Marv Shatto at 139.

UCLA TOOK SECOND with a 434 and the University of California at Riverside was third with 465.

McCallister's four-under-par put him ahead of his strongest challenger, Dic Foote of UCLA who posted a 140. McCallister went out in 68 and turned in a 70 for the second 18 to successfully defend his championship.

McCALLISTER, Foote and Ron Preston of UCR put up the best exhibition at Thunderbird. Preston went out in 72 and came home in 71 for a 143 and third spot.

Los Angeles State was fourth. Other teams competing in the SCIGA were Loyola, Long Beach State, San Diego State, Pomona College and Caltech.

North-South Title At Stake Today

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—Walker Cupper Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., stands today between defending champion Hillman Robbins Jr. of Memphis, Tenn., and a second straight North and South Amateur golf championship.

Medalist Robbins and Campbell teed off today in the 36-hole final round of the 57th annual tournament over the 7,007-yard Pinehurst Country Club course.

In Friday's semi-finals, Robbins defeated Dr. Bud Taylor of Pomona, Calif., 4 and 3, while Campbell downed Bill Hyndman III of Philadelphia, last year's runner-up, 3 and 2.

Briggs Out as VP Of Detroit Tigers

DETROIT. (AP)—The Briggs name, a part of Detroit Tiger baseball for nearly four decades, was removed from the Tiger scene Friday when Walter O. Spike Briggs Jr., resigned as executive vice president, general manager and director.

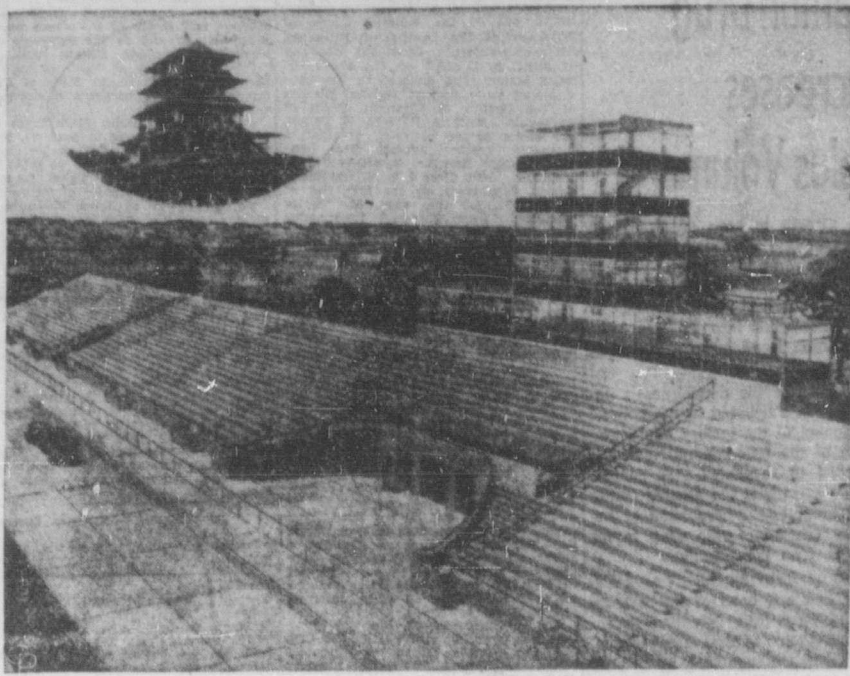

Only the stadium retains the designation of "Briggs." "And I wonder how long it'll be before they change that," Briggs said.

Things Look Better For Joe Louis Today

CHICAGO. (AP)—Things were looking up a bit for former heavyweight champ Joe Louis today. His pocketbook might be a bit weak but his heart is stronger than first thought.

Louis was told Friday his heart condition had improved enough so that he might be able to resume his job as a referee of wrestling matches. The income tax-troubled Louis is in a position to welcome any source of added revenue.

INDIANAPOLIS SPEEDWAY TO GET NEW LOOK

AN OLD LANDMARK on the bigtime sports beat will be replaced this year when a modernistic control tower and tower terrace (artist's conception shown above) will replace the famous old Pasa Pagoda (inset) at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway in time for this year's international 500-mile race, which will be run, as usual, on Memorial Day, May 30. ## Berrios Upset by British Champion

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Hogan Kid Bassey's manager threatened today to return to England "unless we can sign up a featherweight title fight within two or three days."

Manager George Biddle made the statement following the dazzling American debut Friday night of the powerfully-built Bassey, British Empire champion from Nigeria, Africa. Bassey overwhelmed Miguel Berrios of Puerto Rico by brute force in their nationally-televised 12-round bout to score a unanimous upset victory. Bassey entered the ring a 9-5 underdog.

The fight was billed as an elimination bout with the winner to meet Cherif Hamia of France for the vacant world title.

In Montreal, Hamia's manager, Philippe Felppl, indicated willingness to match his fighter with Bassey for the crown.

Expect Holandes 2nd to Add New Rags to Riches Chapter

By HAL WOOD

United Press Sports Writer

SAN MATEO. (AP)—An ugly duckling horse by the name of Holandes 2nd, which means Dutchman in Spanish is expected to romp away with the $115,000 William F. Kyne Handicap at Bay Meadows today—thus completing a rags to riches saga in the toughest of all money-making sports.

Holandes 2nd had the misfortune of being born in the month of December—which means he was one year old three weeks later under U. S. rules.

In other words, Holandes as a two-year-old was running against three-year-olds. Now, as a three-year-old, he is running in the rugged handicap division—and still proving that he may be the best thoroughbred in the United States.

ABLE TO WIN ONLY one start in six outings in Argentine, where he was barely two years old running against older horses, he was shipped to the United States along with several others by the late Bill Kyne.

But he looked so powerful in his first outing here that the International Stable was able to sell him to a syndicate for $100,000. In 13 outings since coming to this country against older horses, Holandes 2nd has won seven times and returned his owners $79,570.

But seven wins in 13 starts doesn't begin to tell the story of Holandes. In most races he has had to concede the opposition weight. He was beaten a nose in the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap by Conshusker.

MIND YOU, Holandes a virtual three-year-old against a four-year-old and packing 122 pounds against 106—a difference of 16 pounds. That's how good the racing secretaries think Holandes is. The first tip-off on just how strong this horse was came when he forced Bobby Brocato into a track record for a mile and one-sixteenth on this same oval in December.

Since then he has been carrying the top weights. In today's race, he will be carrying 124 pounds—spotting all his 14 rivals from five to 18 pounds.

And over a mile and one sixteenth five pounds can get pretty heavy.

Three Clubs Tied for Top in Hot Pacific Coast Loop Race

By DON THACKREY

United Press Sports Writer

The Pacific Coast League today seemed to be operating under the old Horatio Alger advice that there is always room at the top. Seattle, Vancouver and San Francisco were all perched atop the ladder with 10-5 records after Friday night's encounters and Los Angeles was suspended in the air a half rung behind.

Vancouver brought the Seals down out of solitary possession by clobbering them 12-3 and Seattle sneaked into the tight wire act by edging San Diego 5-4.

Los Angeles held on to get past Sacramento 3-2 and Portland and Hollywood watched the fog roll in.

THE BEAVER-STARS game went three scoreless innings before the fog got so thick the game had to be called. It will be replayed at a later date.

Vancouver minced the Seals with a 16-hit attack that snapped their win streak at four and fixed it so one of the clubs will drop out of the select company Saturday afternoon.

The Mounties erupted for five runs in the second inning and then tallied six more to add to the injury in the ninth.

Charley White hit a solo blast in between and the Seals could do nothing with the offerings of Mel Held after the first two frames. Held ran his record to 3 wins and no defeats with an eight-hitter.

Seattle used five pitchers in holding San Diego to eight hits.

BILLY REGIS, trumpet virtuoso currently starring with his own trio at Bob and Andrea Leeds Howard's glamorous Howard Manor, believes in being brief and to the point when it comes to tunesmithing. Just before he opened at the desert spa, his first Palm Springs engagement, by the way, Regis wrote a tune called "Stop!" Singers are going to have a tough time memorizing the lyrics, which consist of only two words: "Stop" and "Don't." The championship song of the brevity league is no gag. Xavier Cugat and his scintillating singer-spouse, Abbe Lane, are scheduled to introduce "Stop" before a nationwide television audience on the Ed Sullivan show tomorrow night.

Dinner Dance Of B'nai B'rith Set for Sunday

The Palm Springs B'nai B'rith Lodge Annual Charity dinner-dance at the Chi Chi Sunday evening "undoubtedly will be one of the most glittering events of our social season," predicts Marty Cobin, chairman of the affair.

"B'nai B'rith," continued Cobin, "is an international brotherhood of benevolence, brotherly love, and harmony, and is universally known for its charitable work in the 114 years of its inception. The charity dinner-dance will give our newly-organized lodge tremendous impetus in its program of community activity for adults and youngsters in the Village."

DONATIONS for tickets, which are deductible as charitable contributions, are $25 per person. All monies raised, Cobin said, will be used for local work, including cultural, educational, athletic, religious, scouting, and scholarship programs which normally are the functions of B'nai B'rith.

In addition to the specially-planned menu, dancing to Bill Alexander's band, entertainment by Jose Greco and his Flamingo Troupe, ticket-holders will have an opportunity to share in a vast array of valuable door prizes.

CHAIRMAN COBIN extended the lodge's invitation to "join our members and get together with all our mutual friends at this worthy function. We'd like particularly to see and greet the many B'nai B'rith members here on vacation from other cities. We know they'll be pleased to join their brethren socially tomorrow."

Reservations can be made at once by phoning 5244 or 2638. Earliest calls will assure seating for those who wish their tables for their own family or social groups.

Adult Evening Classes to Be Continued Here

Extension of adult evening classes in lapidary and jewelry and silver instruction was approved this week by the Board of Education.

Classes will be extended through the month of May, ending May 31.

Because of delays in securing state approval, Red Cross sanctioned adult swimming classes ordinarily offered in the spring will not be presented this year.

Teacher 'Leave' Policy Accepted

A new policy governing leaves and absences of teachers of the Palm Springs Unified School District has been adopted by the Board of Education.

The board unanimously approved the plan that sets up sabbatical leave requirements, sick leave, and other forms of absence, and compensation for each.

The schedule of rules and regulations governing leaves for certified employees was submitted to Schools Supt. Wallace Muelder.

Wiley Post, in completing the first round-the-world solar flight in 1933, flew 15,996 miles in 7 days, 8 hours, 45 minutes.

Palm Desert Branch B of A Given New Status on May 1

Bank of America's Palm Desert office, which has operated under the supervision of Palm Springs branch since it opened in 1952, will progress to status as a full-fledged branch of the statewide institution beginning Wednesday, May 1.

Announcement of the change was made by Fred G. Ingram, vice president and manager of Palm Springs branch, who explained that this will transfer supervisory authority of the Palm Desert office to its first manager, J. Phil Franklin, who has been promoted from assistant cashier at Palm Springs.

"BOTH THE COMMUNITY and the bank are progressing," Ingram said. "Palm Desert is coming of age, and we are acting to keep pace with it."

New banking quarters for Palm Desert were opened in October, 1956. Two and one-half times greater in area than the building previously used, they provide a full line of metropolitan banking services, including checking and savings accounts, loans of all types, escrows, appointments with trust officers, safe deposit facilities and a night depository.

Manager Franklin emphasized that operations will continue unchanged. "We'll be open for business at the same place and during the same hours," he said. The branch is at 73-833 Highway 111.

FRANKLIN CAME to Palm Springs in October, 1956, and was named officer in charge at Palm Desert early this year. His promotion effective May 1, gives him his first manager's post. He joined the statewide bank in Los Angeles in 1940 and spent nine years at a Huntington Park branch, where he was promoted to officer rank as assistant cashier.
